

Discover

There are a lot of sights to see and visit near the mouth of the Ahr. A hike to the Felten tower opens up a breathtaking view across Sinzig and the Rhine valley. In addition, the Technical Museum in Bad Bodendorf with a carbon dioxide liquefaction plant, or the award-winning rose village Loehndorf are worth a visit.

Experience

Culture is big in and around Sinzig: the medieval market that takes place every year in Sinzig's castle gardens, the summer cultural festival, and numerous more festivities of associations and institutions draw visitors to experience the local culture.

Relax

The parks and gardens of the natural town setting in Sinzig call for peaceful walks. Besides that, swimming in the nostalgic thermal outdoor pool and various health, spa and beauty programs make a visit to Sinzig very relaxing.

Hike

Bad Bodendorf is the starting point of the Red Wine Hiking Trail – one of Germany's most beautiful hiking trails. Other popular trails like the Aachener Heerweg or the Rhine Castle Trail also lead right through Bad Bodendorf.

Bike

Well marked bike trails weave their way along the rivers Ahr and Rhein – through fruitful meadow landscapes in the "Golden Mile" as well as through canyon like rock formations and vineyard terraces at the Middle Ahr.

Caravan Park Sinzig-Bad Bodendorf

Welcome to Sinzig-Bad Bodendorf – gateway to the Valley of the Red Grape

Sinzig-Bad Bodendorf is located in the picturesque Ahr valley in the Northern part of the state of Rhineland Palatine. In the midst of the beautiful scenery of the river Ahr and the Sinzig spa gardens, the RV park is the perfect starting point for hikes, bike trips and a vast array of other adventuresome activities.

Germany's largest enclosed wine-growing district borders Sinzig-Bad Bodendorf. The historic vineyard at the main station is the starting point of the well known Red Wine Hiking Trail which traverses 35 kilometers through the vineyards of the romantic Ahr valley.

The quaint city center, its numerous half-timbered houses, a nostalgic and romantic thermal outdoor pool, as well as restaurants, bars and cafés, make your visit to Sinzig-Bad Bodendorf a very special experience.

Barbarossa Town Sinzig

From the very distance, visitors can already see: This is Sinzig. The central tower of the parish church St. Peter is visibly reaching into the sky. This basilica of the late Romanesque period became a United Nations World Heritage site in 1998. And Sinzig offers even more: Sinzig Castle awaits its visitors only a few steps away from St. Peter's and is surrounded by a beautiful park. Sinzig Castle is a neo-Gothic building erected in the middle of the 19th century, and is today the home of the museum of local history.

Among other sights in Sinzig are the remnants of the 700 year old town wall, which are preserved very well around Harbachstraße. A lot of admirers are also drawn to the Barbarossa monument; a larger than life statue that represents the Staufer Emperor Frederick Barbarossa who visited Sinzig on several occasions – that's why the town is called "Barbarossa Town" today.

All throughout the year, the residents of Sinzig and their visitors can choose between a vast variety of events and local facilities to enjoy and relax: modern athletic grounds, well structured hiking, biking, and Nordic walking trails, an exciting culinary mix of restaurants, and a wide range of cultural events in the region make every visit a special occasion.
